Belfast, June 25.—A flotilla of British destroyers has arrived at Londonderry and is lying in the harbor today with the city under its guns.

The heavy fighting which had been raging intermittently since Saturday has died down to isolated skirmishing and sniping. A severe rainstorm which began early today assisted the British troops in restoring peace in the battle-ridden city.

One person was killed while a detachment of soldiers was dispersing a band of looters.

There was considerable sniping during the night. Shortly after midnight the troops patrolling the city fired several heavy volleys into buildings where snipers were concealed and then began an intensive search for the riflemen.

According to a telephone message from a Londonberry suburb firing again broke out between 5 and 6 o'clock. A British officer was quoted as saying that "things were pretty hot."

A second telephone message from Londonderry said that "all fighting has ceased." British troops took possession of the grounds and buildings of St. Columba college, where there had been considerable sniping. Business in Londonderry is still virtually at a standstill. Most of the shopkeepers feared to open up their stores.

It is reported that Sinn Feiners hidden on the heights on the outskirts of the city fired a number of shots at the British warships in the harbor.

Searchlights on the ships and those on shore operated by the troops were kept playing on the city throughout the night.

The British military authorities believe that they have the situation completely in hand, but they have had a difficult time checking the widespread looting.

In the outskirts of the city masked raiders forcibly entered many homes indiscriminately pillaging the property of Sinn Feiners and Unionists.

Heavy reinforcements of British troops are patrolling the main streets of the city.

A number of armed "Irish Volunteers" patrolled the district where the Sinn Feiners reside.

It is believed that the death list is bigger than first estimated. Both the Unionists and Sinn Feiners formed "casualty corps" to care for the wounded and carry off the dead. It is possible that some of the dead may have been buried secretly.

There has been practically no vehicular traffic in Londonderry since the fighting began last Saturday except for hearses.

Armored cars were used by the troops for the rescue of women and children in the battle zone.

Missouri Republicans
Meet And Adopt Resolutions.

Sedalia, Mo., June 25.—Resolutions demanding the removal of Jacob L. Babler, Republican national committeeman from Missouri, and W. L. Cole, state Republican chairman, were adopted at a meeting of Missouri Republicans called for the purpose of "cleaning house" in the Republican party in the state.

Both admitted before the state investigating committee they had received money from managers of the Lowden campaign for the presidential nomination.

After reciting the circumstances contained in the Babler-Cole testimony before the senate committee, the resolutions continue:

"Be it resolved, that our party organization must be purged and cleaned of every man who has prostituted it to commercial purposes and to the end that those now known to be guilty may not go unwhipped of justice we demand that National Committeeman Babler and State Chairman Cole resign from the positions which they have wretchedly dis-

Electors Will Be Nominated In Columbus.

Columbus, June 25.—Republican state central and advisory committees have been called to meet in joint session Tuesday noon, preceding opening of the Republican state convention in Memorial hall here.

Chairman N. M. Fairbanks of the central committee is to call the convention to order at 3 p. m. Tuesday after delegates from each congressional district have held caucuses, at which selections for presidential electors will be made. Each district caucus must select also one vice president of the convention and one member of each of the following committees: Credentials, permanent organization, rules and order of business, resolutions.

In addition to the 22 nominations for presidential electors to be made by the district caucuses, the convention will select two at large. The four important committees will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday to transact business. While the committees are in session in hotel rooms the Republican rally will be staged in Memorial hall. The state platform will be adopted at the Wednesday morning session.

PUBLIC QUESTIONS
DRAW INTEREST OF SENATOR HARDING

Washington, June 25.—It is being made more difficult every day for Senator Harding the Republican nominee to adhere to his determination to his d not to discuss public questions publicly until delivery of his acceptance speech July 22.

He repeated today that he would not be drawn into such discussions at this time. He declines to send special messages to political friends throughout the country who are holding ratification mass meetings in his interest. He will not send any message to the Ohio State Republican convention which convenes this week.

Insistent requests met him today for statements regarding the suffrage leaders that he would not take affirmative action in helping secure ratification of the suffrage amendment. The Irish question has been made bothersome because of the publication by Frank P. Walsh of a letter written by Senator Harding expressing sympathy with the Irish people in their efforts to secure their independence and a copy of which letter the senator has been unable to locate in his files.

Government Agents Begin
Nation Wide Roundup
Of Men.

New York, June 25.—Government agents let it be known that they have begun a nation-wide roundup of alleged wildcat oil company promoters who are said to have swindled the public out of millions within the last few months.

This announcement followed the breaking of seals on indictments charging 14 concerns and 50 individuals with fraud.

The defendants—oil companies, brokerage concerns and their officers and salesmen—are charged with having used the mails to defraud. They are alleged to have made gross misrepresentations and to have in some cases paid impressive dividends out of receipts on stock sales.

In one case, these indictments charged, salesmen disposing of stock of the Crown Oil company falsely represented that a son of Former President Roosevelt was an officer of the company, which it was claimed would soon rival the Standard Oil company in volume of business.

Shares of this company, according to one of the indictments, were sold to investors in Chicago at $2.25 a share, and to "evade the western blue-sky law," later was disposed of here at $3, after costing brokers only 75 cents a share.

While federal officers were seeking Louis C. Van Riper at Atlantic City and Boston for alleged connection with the sale of Ranger oil stock, the promoter and his counsel appeared at the federal court to answer the indictment. Bail was fixed at $20,000 after the prosecution had sought to have the amount fixed at $50,000. Van Riper's counsel, Martin W. Littleton, pleaded the latter sum was excessive and would be tantamount to punishment, contending that a bond of $5,000 was the usual bail in mail fraud cases.

SUFFRAGISTS SEE
VICTORY IN STATE LEGISLATURE MEET

Tennessee Executive Body
To Act On Amendment.

Washington, June 25.—Assistant Attorney General Frierson has advised Governor Roberts of Tennessee that the legislature of that state could ratify the suffrage amendment without submitting the issue to the people.

Mr. Frierson's opinion, given orally and in writing both to Governor Roberts and the attorney general of Tennessee, was based largely on the decision of the United States supreme court in the Ohio referendum case.

Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Woman's party, said that Governor Roberts' decision to call a special session of the Tennessee legislature to act on the suffrage amendment "means certain victory." A recent canvass of both Tennessee houses, she said, indicated a safe majority in favor of ratification.

The North Carolina legislature will be called to meet in special session between July 20 and Aug. 10 to receive the revaluation report of the tax commission. At this session the question of ratification of the Susan B. Anthony federal amendment will come up, it was stated at the office of Governor Bickett. The Democratic state convention recently embodied a plank in its platform urging the proposed special session to ratify the Anthony amendment.

TEACHERS SELECT

Sandusky, O., June 24.—Class teachers attending the annual convention of the Ohio State Teachers Association at Cedar Point, are in open revolt today against the proposed amendment to the organization's constitution which, if adopted, would make possible the combination of the offices of secretary-treasurer and business manager of the Ohio teachers' reading circle. The class teachers claim that the proposal is the "child of the superintendents, principals and other so-called 'higher ups'" and that its purpose is to provide a "fat" job for some one already chosen.

Long Silence From White House Expected To Be Broken
Soon; Palmer Manager Declares It Is Either Attorney General or Dark Horse.

San Francisco, June 25.—Unless unforeseen developments alter the present situation, it is certain that no less than 15 names will be presented to the Democratic national convention next week for the presidential nomination. Aside from the name of Woodrow Wilson himself, four names stand out pre-eminently as the vanguard of delegates begin to arrive. These are William G. McAdoo, A. Mitchell Palmer, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall and Governor James M. Cox of Ohio.

There is a distinct feeling among the arrivals that the silence at the white house is soon to be broken—that the president will in a few days either nominate or eliminate himself, or else he will throw the tremendous weight of his support behind some of the 15 men in the race.

National Chairman Homer S. Cummings is in daily communication with the white house. He has talked with Secretary Joseph P. Tumulty and with others of the president's immediate family. The results of these conversations have been carefully withheld.

MARION PREPARING TO HANDLE CROWDS
ON HARDING DAY

Canton "Porch" Plan Is Adopted By Civic Association.

Marion, O., June 25.—Carroll B. Huntress, secretary of the Marion Civic association, accompanied by G. W. Irwin, agent for the Pennsylvania railroad at Canton, who served in the same capacity in that city during the McKinley campaign of 1896, returned from Canton with information as to how Canton handled the crowds during the "front porch" campaign of Major McKinley.

The information obtained, it was said following a meeting of the Marion Civic association, will be used to advantage throughout the campaign of Senator Harding, who is expected here July 5 and who will remain during most of the time until election day.

Railroad officials held a conference here and announced satisfactory arrangements had been made to care for the thousands who are expected to come here. It is estimated the railroad will spend $25,000 in building train sheds and conveniences.

Mayor T. C. E. Andrews of Marion received the following letter from Senator Harding: "I need not tell you how gratified I was to know of the cordial greetings from the old home town. I hope the people of Marion will understand how deeply I appreciate the confidence and esteem which they ever have been so generous in showing me."

that he would not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president, his name recurs very frequently in gossip in conversation circles. Privately, some of these McAdoo supporters admit they have not lost hope that he would not be a candidate for regard the Republican ticket and platform as "encouraging" from a Democratic point of view, and believe that the brass tacks of politics will dictate McAdoo's nomination as the man who could be elected. They are shaping their present course, they admitted, in anticipation of a deadlock between Attorney General Palmer, Governor Cox and the other prominent aspirants, and look for a general swing to McAdoo.

Deadlock Foreseen.

Representatives of other candidates also foresee a deadlock in the balloting, and are looking after second choices.

Neighboring considerations, it is said, are apt to play a part in the course of delegates from Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia when the expected breakup comes. Each state has a candidate in the field, Palmer from Pennsylvania, Cox from Ohio and John W. Davis from West Virginia.

Should the early balloting make it apparent that the necessary two-thirds majority to nominate could not be obtained for Palmer or Cox, Davis supporters claimed that he would inherit the Pennsylvania and Ohio delegations. They anticipated a general surge toward Davis under the impetus furnished by these powerful blocks of votes.

Arrival of Senator Glass of Virginia added nothing to the discussions as to candidates. There was nothing to indicate that he had brought any message or suggestion on that subject from his conference with President Wilson. He has been generally classed among those who favor Mr. McAdoo.

Supporters of Vice President Marshall for the nomination looked at the situation much as did the Davis adherents. They thought Marshall would figure very prominently if a deadlock developed. The vice president arrived today from southern California.

C. C. Carlin, a Palmer manager, said the situation, so far as the attorney general's candidacy was concerned, was satisfactory. "It will be Palmer or somebody who has not yet been mentioned," was the way Mr. Carlin summed up the situation.

CANDIDACY BEING CHALLENGED, REPORT

Columbus, June 25.—The candidacy of Harold C. Smith, Ellyria, for the Republican nomination for secretary of state was challenged in a protest filed with Secretary of State Harvey C. Smith by O. K. Shimansky, Cuyahoga county resident and editor of the Ohio Journal of Commerce. The protest attacks the Ellyria Smith's declaration as "not genuine." It charges he only qualified "after being solicited to declare his candidacy for the purpose of confusing voters" and that he failed to appear to write in his name in full, although notified through his messenger.

ARMED REBELLION

PLAN OF NEW PARTY

Secret Meeting Of Communist Party Adopts Plank.

Washington, June 25.—Armed rebellion "by the working classes against the capitalistic government" is a plank in the platform adopted in a secret convention of the newly formed United Communist party held recently in the United States at the request of the Amsterdam, Holland headquarters, according to documents made public today by the department of justice.

Neither the gathering place nor the exact date was announced by the department but it was stated the convention lasted a week and was attended by 59 delegates from all parts of the United States. These delegates met under assumed names.

A significant feature of the documents is the statement that none of the communists of the 1919 roll was present, a fact explained as the remarkable achievement of the Lusk-Palmer inquisition.

The report states that the United Communist party, "making no pretense of legality," promulgated a declaration of revolutionary principles asserting that the final struggle between workers and capitalists will take the form of civil war and that it is the function of the United Communist party systematically to familiarize the working class with the necessity of armed insurrection as the only means through which the capitalist government can be overthrown.

The platform denounces the American Federation of Labor as "the bulwark of capitalism" and condemns the American Legion as the enemy of the aims of the party and declares itself the first clear cut expression of the revolutionary movement that has achieved splendid victory in Russia and advocates agitation among negro workers "to unite them with all class conscious workers."

GOVERNMENT ENDS
COAL SHORTAGE

Washington, June 25.—The interstate commerce commission and department of justice have taken steps to relieve the soft coal shortage and check profiteering. The commission has ordered railroads to deliver to coal mines an absolute 100 per cent car supply. No open top or gondola car may be supplied for any purpose except the transportation of coal while any mine's order for cars is unfilled. If, in the face of adequate car supply, the price is kept up to its present level, or is shoved higher, the department of justice has promised to take quick action under the anti-profit law and jerk operators and dealers into court. Plans for this co-operation of the interstate commerce commission and the department of justice were laid at a conference between Commissioner Charles C. McChesney and Assistant Attorney General H. S. Mutch.

Rail Employees In All Eastern Yards Vote To Walk Out.

DEAF TO APPEALS

Men Refuse To Listen To Urgent Requests Of Leaders To Wait.

Washington, June 25.—Switchmen in all the eastern yards have voted to walk out at midnight tomorrow, union leaders were advised today.

At a secret session held at midnight yesterday switchmen employed in the Potomac and Baltimore yards decided almost unanimously to join the walkout. Similar action, it was learned was taken at meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Jersey City and other centers in the east.

Representatives of the unions and the department of labor who have been working with the men urging them to wait for the railroad labor board's decision report them deaf to appeals.

"We tried to show them that the president's message to the board, will bring speedy action and an award was certain within a week," said one of these representatives today. "But they will not be moved from their determination to strike. They declare they are weary of promises and point to the reports that the board is deadlocked. It must be admitted that they have waited patiently and for a long time. They have the notion that the board is unable to agree on the switchmen's demands. We have no answer to their argument that the cost of living is rising while the board is deliberating. Shopmen and other railroad workers affiliated with the railway employes departments are being counseled by their leaders to join the strike."

"We are urging the members of our international unions to wait for the labor board's decision," said John Scott, secretary of the railway employes department, "we are confident of a favorable award and feel the president's appeal will move the board to speed up action. We may protest against the decision of the board making increases retroactive from May 1, instead of March 1, but we do not expect any trouble from the men. In the international affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, unless the board's award is very unsatisfactory. We do not think the board is held up by any serious difficulties and with a little more time a satisfactory agreement will be worked out in our opinion."

M. Jewell, head of the railroad employes department and chairman of the committee in charge of the case before the board, will return to Chicago today. According to advice received here all the union executives have gathered there to decide on a course of action. Labor leaders point to the fact that a walkout of the switchmen in the east will mean tie up of transportation and unless definite assurance is given by the board that decision will be rendered early next week no other course will be left than to leave it to the men to decide whether to call an unauthorized general strike.

OHIOANS BOOSTING
COX FOR NOMINATION

San Francisco, June 25.—Ohio Cox boosters, who arrived here yesterday, lost no time in getting down to business. The party includes ex-Governor James E. Campbell, chairman of the Ohio delegation; Charles E. Morris, secretary to Governor Cox; Robert Scott, delegate; J. D. Duffy, Claude Meeker, Ira Pontius, Phillip C. Berg, Robert Crew and Judge James G. Johnson.

"We are going to nominate Governor Cox," said Chairman Campbell. "We won't do it on the first ballot, but we will nominate him. Just watch us go."

En route to San Francisco, the Ohioans held numerous conferences with Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, who is said to be supporting Governor Cox. Murphy joined the Ohio party at Chicago after attending a conference of Democratic leaders at French Lick Springs, Ind., the home of Tom Taggart.

At a secret session held at midnight yesterday switchmen employed in the Potomac and Baltimore yards decided almost unanimously to join the walkout. Similar action, it was learned was taken at meetings in New York, Philadelphia, Jersey City and other centers in the east.

Representatives of the unions and the department of labor who have been working with the men urging them to wait for the railroad labor board's decision report their deaf to appeals.

"We tried to show them that the president's message to the board, will bring speedy action and an award was certain within a week," said one of these representatives today. "But they will not be moved from their determination to strike. They declare they are weary of promises and point to the reports that the board is deadlocked. It must be admitted that they have waited patiently and for a long time. They have the notion that the board is unable to agree on the switchmen's demands. We have no answer to their argument that the cost of living is rising while the board is deliberating. Shopmen and other railroad workers affiliated with the railway employees departments are being counseled by their leaders.

"We are urging the members of our international unions to wait for the labor board's decision," said John Scott, secretary of the railway employees department. "We are confident of a favorable award and feel the president's appeal will move the board to speed up action. We may protest against the decision of the board making increases retroactive from May 1, instead of March 1, but we do not expect any trouble from the men, in the international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, unless the board's award is very unsatisfactory. We do not think the board is held up by any serious difficulties and with a little more time a satisfactory agreement will be worked out in our opinion."

M. Jewell, head of the railroad employees department and chairman of the committee in charge of the case before the board, will return to Chicago today. According to advice received here all the union executives have gathered there to decide on a course of action. Labor leaders point to the fact that a walkout of the switchmen in the east will mean tie up of transportation and unless definite assurance is given by the board that decision will be rendered early next week no other course will be left than to leave it to the men to decide whether to call an unauthorized general strike.

STEER FATTENED FOR $1.60

Abundance of Grazing Land and Improved Breeding Point to Boom in Industry in Paraguay—W. A. Reid of the Pan-American Union, After Survey, Says Country Only Lacks Capital—Future Prospects Bright.

The low price at which beef can be fattened, the abundance of grazing lands and improved breeding in Paraguay, point to a bright future in cattle raising, an industry that is already well under way in that country, according to William A. Reid of the Pan-American Union, after a survey of conditions.

In Paraguay the fattened steer suitable for market on the average is nearly five years old. About eight acres of land are required to support one steer. At a land cost of 60 cents an acre, the interest at 7 per cent is slightly more than 4 cents a year; and allowing eight acres a head about $3 1/4 cents a year, or a total of $1.60, is the interest on land which produces a steer ready for slaughtering. In other parts of South America where cattle activities are well developed an interest charge of $16 a year and upward is not uncommon. In the United States similar charges are much larger than those given for South America, although these figures vary in different localities.

Capital Is Needed.

The reason this country, comprising 196,000 square miles in the heart of South America, has been backward in developing its two principal industries—stock raising and quebracho exploitation—is attributed, not to the lack of rich grazing pastures or to the scarcity of timber lands, but to the need for capital for their development.

"When the call for larger supplies of food is still echoing around the world," says Mr. Reid, writing in the Pan-American bulletin, "it seems a great pity that in some sections of South America only a few years ago many cattle were allowed to perish by drowning. Such an instance came under the observation of the writer while traveling through the lowlands of Paraguay in the wet season. Extensive areas of this country were submerged owing to a period of unusually heavy rains, and although hills and rolling uplands lay near, lack of human direction and foresight resulted in the loss of vast numbers of fine beef cattle."

"Such conditions, however, are not likely to continue today, for the demand for meat products has quickened the activities of stockmen the world over, and skilled cattle raisers have sought newer fields, where suitable and natural conditions will enable them to develop their industry, and in their search they have gone to hitherto undeveloped regions."

"Few, if any countries furnish a better illustration of this statement than Paraguay. The scarcity of population, estimated at 1,000,000 persons, so far below what might be maintained, is one of the conditions that tend to draw outside capital, tempting the great corporation with its various activities to develop virgin fields. Foreign corporations are now in sufficient number to make themselves felt commercially, and the fact that the newer companies are progressing, if not already returning dividends, speaks well for future prospects."

Decline in United States.

"Today the vast pampas of Argentina are furnishing more beef for foreign consumption than do the plains of our Golden West; in the United States the growing of cattle is declining year by year, the farmer, the mechanic, the miner, taking the place of the romantic cowboy, and cereal crops being grown where the lowing herds once grazed. In other words, the last two decades have seen a decrease in certain western cattle lands of over half billion acres.

"To use another comparison and quoting from a report of the federal trade commission, it is shown that while our population (from 1880 to 1910) increased more than 83 per cent, the production of beef cattle grew only 22 per cent. From 1910 to 1919 the United States population increased about 14 per cent, while the number of cattle decreased about 10 per cent.

"Bearing these facts in mind, it is no wonder that cattlemen and packers should seek new lands for producing food animals. Argentina with her 20,500,000 beef cattle, not to mention vast herds of sheep and swine, is gradually extending her grazing lands northward to the Gran Chaco. This fact and the success that has followed such enterprises have turned the eyes of corporations to the virgin lands of Bolivia and Paraguay."

One United States company which entered Paraguay several years ago, and whose property now includes millions of acres of lands, one tract alone, locally known as Pinasco, comprising 1,250,000 acres, is actively engaged in meat canning and packing. Slaughter houses and plants, operated at convenient places on the Paraguay river, are capable of handling 3,000 head of cattle a week.

ORCHESTRA OF A. L. ADVERTISES FESTIVAL AT FARMERS' PICNIC

Advertising the Soldiers' and Sailors June Festival to be held at the Rink next week under the auspices of Joseph P. Foody Post, American legion, a crew of Legionnaires visited the farmers' picnic at the Fairgrounds Thursday afternoon.

The Festival boosters took with them a full five piece orchestra on a truck, the orchestra being composed of Clarence Jeffries at the piano, Forest Hurley, Frank and Raymond Shephard and Edward Heathers. At the picnic grounds, Oscar Werber, who is donating time to assist in the work, extended an invitation to the farmers to attend the Festival especially on Saturday which will be farmer's day.

The American Legion orchestra proved popular as it was the only music-making outfit on the grounds.

As the result of burns received Wednesday while working on a fuse box at the plant of the Wickham Piano Plate Company, Springfield, Wilbur Boolman, former Greene Countian, died at the Springfield city hospital at four o'clock, Thursday.

Boolman was born in Greene County in 1894 and went to Springfield in 1905. He was an employee of the Springfield Light, Heat and Power Company for seven years with the exception of the time he spent in the army overseas. He married a year ago and besides his wife, leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Boolman, of Springfield, and four sisters, Mrs. Americus Webb of Detroit, Mrs. Melvin Webb, Mrs. Helen Schall and Miss Mary Boolman of Springfield.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will be made in the Yellow Springs cemetery.

Spent Fortune In Search

"I spent $1,800 in 7 years treating with physicians, some physicians costing me $10 a visit, only to at last say that nothing could be done for me, that I had cancer or ulcers of the stomach. I suffered awful pains in my stomach, but after taking a few doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy these all disappeared and for three years am feeling fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sayre & Hemphill and druggists everywhere.

WHOLE LIFE WAS MISERABLE FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Prominent citizen suffered tortures from indigestion, dyspepsia, gas in stomach, constipation, nervousness and dizzy spells. Dreco gave prompt relief.

"I know what it is to suffer the tortures of indigestion, dyspepsia, and gastritis, and the other ails which go along with them, and I also know what it means to get rid of them," said Mr. John Mellott, of 405 Centre St., Findlay, O.

"After each meal I'd fill up with gas; my stomach burned like fire, and I had griping pains. My bowels were badly constipated; I suffered from dizziness and vertigo and became nervous, so that I slept poorly and would rise in the morning feeling tired out."

"I had taken much medicine, designed to cure such troubles, but I never got more than temporary relief. I think the reason Dreco has done me so much good is because it acted on the rest of the trouble. It got my bowels moving regularly; cleared my liver off, and strengthened my stomach. I've taken three bottles of Dreco and my troubles have been entirely relieved. I sleep sound; have a good appetite, and feel good all over."

Dreco is made from the juices of twelve different herbs, roots, barks and leaves, which act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys, bladder and the blood, and tends to relieve constipation, headaches, rheumatism, catarrh, biliousness, dizzy spells, heart fluttering, gas on the stomach and other troubles.

Dreco is now sold by all progressive druggists and is being especially introduced here by

BRIDAL PAIR GREETED AT THE GUYER HOME

Mr. and Mrs. George Dodds Geyer, Mrs. George H. Geyer and Miss Mary Katherine Geyer, received a company of thirty young people at the Geyer home on North Galloway street Thursday night to meet informally Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Geyer (Ada Wehny), whose marriage took place in Cincinnati last Saturday afternoon. The bridal pair reached Xenia Thursday morning, and will be the guests of relatives here until Sunday, when they will return to Cincinnati for a short stay at the home of Mrs. Geyer's father before going to their new home at East Braintree, Mass.

The Geyer home was decked in a profusion of roses and hollyhocks and sweet peas Thursday evening. Ice cream with cherries and angel food cake was served, a red and white arrangement being carried out.

During the evening much amusement was furnished by the efforts of the guests to furnish a pictorial biography of the bridal pair. They were expected to do by cutting pictures from a magazine, and pasting them in a blank book. When all were finished they were passed about, the guests voting as to which was the cleverest.

Members of the Dodds family will be entertained at the Geyer home Friday evening honoring the bridegroom and bride. Those who will be present besides members of the household, are Mrs. George H. Geyer and Miss Mary K. Geyer, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dodds and Miss Dorothy Dodds, Mrs. J. C. TWO FATALLY HURT IN POLICE FIGHT

Hamilton, O., June 25.—NIE police clerk Charles J. Stegemann is dead and James Boling is at Mercy Hospital fatally wounded following a clash between police and detectives and Boling this morning at the latter's home on North B. street.

The police were sent to the Boling home this morning to investigate a family quarrel that occurred last night. On entering the house Stegemann went in search of Boling whom he found upstairs. As Stegemann entered the room Boling snatched a rifle and shot the police clerk through the heart. Chief of Detectives Dulle, hearing the shot, rushed up stairs and as Boling was about to shoot him, Dulle fired a revolver bullet into Boling's body.

Wakely Had Given Up Hope Of Ever Being Well, He States Tanlac Proves Merit.

"Tanlac is the only medicine that ever did me a particle of good and I am now feeling as well as I ever did in my life," said Thomas Wakely, West Terre Haute, Ind., recently.

"I was born and brought up in the coal regions around Terre Haute," he continued, "and have been a coal miner all my life. I had always been able to stand my work until about five years ago, when my back began giving me trouble and I noticed myself getting in a run-down condition. My arms and legs would give out and my back hurt like it was breaking in two. My stomach got in bad condition and I had so little appetite I couldn't even eat half the lunch in my dinner bucket. Sometimes I got so weak I felt like I was going to faint and had to come out of the mine to rest myself or go home. Why, I got in such bad shape could hardly see my pick and was so tired and worn out when I got home at night I had to go right to bed. I worried about my health all the time and was very nervous. I had about given up hope of ever being well, for I had tried everything in the way of medicines I ever heard of and spent all the money I made trying to get well, but just kept on going down hill. I fell off so much in weight my neighbors and friends said if I didn't get something to help me, I couldn't live long.

"One day I read in the paper how an Illinois man said Tanlac had got him out of the same kind of troubles, so I got a bottle right away. I felt better as soon as I finished the second bottle, my strength picked up and my appetite is now so big I have to carry twice as much in my dinner pail and I eat every bite of it. I feel as strong as a mule now and can dig as much coal as any man in the mine and I have not lost a day's work since I started taking Tanlac. I am no longer tired at night and get up in the mornings feeling fine. I wish I had started on Tanlac a year ago, for it has certainly made a new man of me and I want everybody to know it."

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: In your column I saw your answer to a person who says she is from New York. I am wondering if you did not answer in an unpleasant mood?

I feel as the girl did that this is a snobbish town. Many strangers feel this way. Go out and ask them how they get treated in some of your churches. Ask them how their young people like the dances. You know as well as I do that the people here only think of the other because he or she is a little bit too big to forget.

Why all this coolness? Can't they be free and sociable even if they do dislike you at first? They do not have to tell you so.

You said it was mean to say "money can buy these people." If you will look around you will find that it is so.

I am a young fellow and have been here since October, yet I have not met half a dozen young ladies who were really nice to me the first time I met them. I am also from New York and I have been in various other places. I can honestly say that I am glad I can be on my way in a couple of months.

Well, something must be wrong with us to be accused of snobbishness by two strangers. Your letter does not impress me as the girl's did. I can see that you are willing to be friendly and are not unjustly critical.

Probably everybody knows everybody else and forgets that strangers feel left out and alone. I am very sorry that such a condition exists and shall do my part to be friendly. The various churches ought to have more active hospitality committees.

Again I say that money is not enough to buy friendships. Money makes a big showing but it cannot take the place of character and charm. This town, as well as any other, has all kinds of people in it. Some are more impressed by money than others. There are many charming and worthy people here both with and without money who do not sell their affections.

I sincerely hope that you will have better times before you leave here so that you can look back upon our city with some degree of affection.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of nineteen and am corresponding with a young man of twenty-five. I like him real well, and I know he is in love with me, for he calls me up as soon as he gets home from work each night, and takes me to a movie or a dance three or four times a week. He always calls me Dimples of Kewpie. He tells me he has a girl in Canada, but he says he does not love her as much as he loves me. I do not know if I should believe him or not, for I don't want to interfere if there is another girl. I am at my wits' end to know what to do and still keep his friendship. MAY.

He may be just holding the Canadian girl over your head to frighten you. It seems to me that you are quite on the "inside track" from the enumerated attentions, so I shouldn't worry if I were you.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Being interested in reading so many of your answers to questions, I am anxious to ask you a few. I am a young girl of nineteen summers and am keeping company with a young man of twenty. We are both engaged yet, for I think I am rather young. The question is, is he the kind for me? He has sown wild oats a good many times, so I consider myself above him. Of course you know there are very few boys who haven't this day and age.

"PARTICULAR."

If you consider yourself above the young man, which you probably have every right to do if he has been wasting his time on a wild oat crop, you would better not marry him, because the one necessary thing in matrimony is to have respect for the man.

BRIDAL PAIR GREETED

Mr. and Mrs. George Dodds Geyer, Mrs. George H. Geyer and Miss Mary Katherine Geyer, received a company of thirty young people at the Geyer home on North Galloway street Thursday night to meet informally Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Geyer (Ada Weary), whose marriage took place in Cincinnati last Saturday afternoon. The bridal pair reached Xenia Thursday morning, and will be the guests of relatives here until Sunday, when they will return to Cincinnati for a short stay at the home of Mrs. Geyer's father before going to their new home at East Braintree, Mass.

The Geyer home was decked in a profusion of roses and honeysuckle and sweet peas Thursday evening. Ice cream with cherries and angel food cake was served, a red and white arrangement being carried out.

During the evening much amusement was furnished by the efforts of the guests to furnish a pictorial biography of the bridal pair. This they were expected to do by cutting pictures from a magazine, and pasting them in a blank book. When all were finished they were passed about, the guests voting as to which was the cleverest.

Members of the Dodds family will be entertained at the Geyer home Friday evening honoring the bridegroom and bride. Those who will be present besides members of the household, are Mrs. George H. Geyer and Miss Mary K. Geyer, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Dodds and Miss Dorothy Dodds, Mrs. J. C. WHO IS TO MOURN AND WHO TO REJOICE AT THE PASSING OF THE WORK HOUSE?

If passing notable events are worthy of consideration, we have just had one such in Xenia of more than usual significance—the passing of the Work House. It was a joint city and county concern, contributing its service to all evil doers alike, without regard to station, sex or color.

We had had its advantage for many years and now it is gone. Who is there to mourn for its passing? Not a single soul, so far as we can see.

Who is there to rejoice at its passing? Very many. To start with, there is the man who had often enjoyed its service. Now that the open saloon, that so often was the cause of his downfall, is closed, he has "come to himself" and has behaved like a decent man, giving his earnings to the benefit of his family instead of to the dram seller. He has great cause to rejoice at the passing of the work house.

Secondly, there is the boozier's wife and family, they rejoice to feel the presence in the home of husband and father, instead of having the humiliation of thinking of him in the work house. They are glad of its passing.

And lastly there is the honest tax payer. He rejoices to see the work house pass. Long he had paid his money to support something of no benefit to him, but on the contrary merely a disgrace to his home community. Gladly he feels this one adjunct of the saloon to pass.

What an inspiring thought is that in connection with our National Prohibition Amendment that closes our thousands of open saloons. A nation without a dram shop, the hope of millions of people for the last hundred years. It may take a few years to drink up the whisky on hand, then will come the day of a sober nation, and great reduction in the number of jails and work houses necessary. Great will be the rejoicing.

THE ONLY TIME TO INFLUENCE CHILDREN IS WHILE THEY ARE CHILDREN.

While many pay tribute to Theodore Roosevelt as a great American, it is also to Theodore Roosevelt the father that the heart of America now turns.

The story of those happy years which he spent with his family in the White House can not fail to impress us with the sacredness of the home life, the joy of the family bond nor can any one measure the effect of such an example upon the rank and file of Americans.

Col. Roosevelt understood as few men do the privileges and responsibilities of fatherhood. After reading that delightful new publication, Theodore Roosevelt's Letters to his Children, one marvels that this busy man found time to take such a part in the life of his children. No matter how full was his day of engagements with the highest dignitaries of state, Col. Roosevelt always found time to be the companion of his children, to read or play with them, to join in their outdoor sports or when he was separated from them to write very frequently.

Often the great upper rooms of the White House were alive with pillow-fights and with those bed-time romps which must have left a lasting impression upon the happy group of young children. But the characteristic which was most touching in his family relationship was his ability to continually remind his children that the spiritual values in life are those which are really worthwhile.

Thousands of fathers, face crises in the lives of their sons and find themselves powerless to influence them though these devoted parents would willingly give a right arm, if necessary, to possess this very power. They lack influence because they did not give of their love, sympathy and companionship when their children were little and confiding.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

In no other country of the world can be witnessed what now is transpiring in the United States. One great convention has finished its labors, proposed its platform of principles; another is about to do likewise. All this is done peacefully, in order. No soldiers fence the deliberations of our national gatherings with bayonets. This is America. We are free. The mass of our people are inspired by the spirit of the times, which is Americanism. We shall make our free choice of men and issues, but whatever we do as citizens back of that action are the impelling influences—loyalty, love of country, reverence for the Constitution.

More than ever, especially during the past several years, we have come to understand Americanism in a higher, nobler sense. We have more intimately realized the duty and necessity of taking care of America first; of preserving free speech, schools and seats of learning divorced from politics and creeds, of supporting the majesty of the law as interpreted by the Courts; of enlarging tolerance in matters of faith; of building an army and navy adequate to our needs; of bringing capital and labor into closer relations of amity; of checking the tendency toward zealotry on the part of reformers who would replace the tolerance and liberty guaranteed by the Constitution with the bigotry of the ages of ignorance and cruelty. In a word, the Americanism of today means that love of country is akin to the love of God, for flowers, the dew in the heart of a rose, the dawns and sunsets, order, virtue in womanhood and the laughter of innocent children at play.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

INTEREST IN GAME OF TENNIS GROWS TOURNAMENT SOON

With interest in tennis growing rapidly as the season is getting under way, an early tournament to inspire interest in the game, is being arranged for the fifth of July, at the courts on the lawn of Dr. B. R. McClellan.

The tournament is open to all tennis players in Greene County and there will be no prizes offered, the meet being arranged more for the pleasure. The tournament will be for men's doubles and a number of entrants have already been received.

In order to make the contests fair the entrants will be divided into two classes, the better players in one class and the less experienced in the other. When the doubles are drawn one player will be drawn from each class. The play will start Saturday afternoon and finish on Monday, the fifth, and already a number of players are practicing every evening between four and six at the McClellan courts. In the men's double's last year J. V. Dryden and Fred Schultz were the winners.

The annual tournament for the silver loving cup which was won last year by Leland Johnson will not be held until the latter part of the season, probably around Labor Day. This tournament will be for singles.

The Independence Day meet is open to players anywhere in this county and entries are being received by Steele Poague.

SILK SHIRTS ARE ON THE INCREASE

A slight drop in the silk market, which has caused a reduction in silk shirts, will be good news to silk shirt wearers among the men of today.

And this means that a great many men will be in on the good news, for the silk shirt now claims as its own a much greater number of men than it did a few years ago, when it sold for considerable less.

This is an interesting statement of local clothing dealers. It is a fact, say the dealers, that when silk shirts were retailing for six and seven dollars a few years ago, there were not as many of them sold as now, when the prices range from ten to twenty dollars or higher.

And it is the salaried man who is buying the high priced shirts. The young fellow, single, who is making a good salary purchases more silk shirts than the man with the large income. They are buying them the same as they are buying lots of other things they were unable to afford a few years ago when wages and prices alike were down.

Someone has said that it is not the high cost of living so much as the cost of high living, and the history of the silk shirt bears out this statement. With the silk shirt double and triple its before the war price, it is an interesting illustration that there is more money available and being spent now, that silk shirts are being more widely and generously sold.

DEMOCRATS AFRAID OF THIRD PARTY

Washington, June 25.—Democratic administration leaders are as much afraid of a third party as the Republicans are, it was stated here today by a high official who is close to the president.

Believing Hiram Johnson definitely out of the race, they are convinced that a third party would draw heavily upon the disgruntled Republican vote which would naturally go to the Democrats if there were no split. No leader other than Johnson, they asserted, could split the Republican ranks seriously enough to offset this loss to the Democrats, other than Republicans who will refuse to vote for Senator Harding.

POWDER EXPLODES; SUSPECT SEIZED

Waterbury, Conn., June 25.—Explosion of a quantity of powder in the cellar of the home of Albino Ribos at 23½ Railroad Hill street early today shook up the neighborhood, blew out some of the windows of the house and threw Ribos' wife and half a dozen boarders out of their beds. Soon after the explosion Michael Titoe, a neighbor, was arrested charged with intimidation and on suspicion of having been the cause of the explosion. In the police court he was sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Larkin after Ribos, his wife and some of the boarders had testified that Titoe had threatened Ribos and his wife because they continued to work in the Benedict and Burnham factory during the strike of factory workers.

GRIEF EVERYWHERE.

I'm in a land enchanting, where springtime always dwells, and birds are galivanting around me, wearing bells. Here no one ever freezes, no sunstroke threatens me, and here the soothing breezes come sighting from the sea. It's like a dream of Eden, one flower-bespangled lawn, a land to rest and read in, and bid all woe begone. Here we should all be joyous, where tranquil springtime lives, where nothing can annoy us in, all that nature gives. Yet here men dig up sorrow, and if no grief they own, they go around and borrow some woe o'er which to groan. This morning I was sitting beneath some tropic trees; a stranger with his knitting came up to share the breeze. I said to him, "O stranger, this is a wondrous day, and thoughts of grief and danger seem worlds and worlds away!" He viewed the distant steeples, the San Diego towers, and sighed, "The yellow peoples have spoiled this land of ours!" And then he raged and rumbled, and voiced his doubts and fears, he ranted and he grumbled, and shed a quart of tears. And all through his repining, and through his "Woe is me," a golden sun was shining upon the sparkling sea.

C.'S OF C. UNITE IN EFFORT TO SUPPLY STATE COAL CARS

In an effort to bring pressure to bear on the Interstate Commerce Commission in the matter of securing cars with which to ship coal to Southern Ohio in time to stave off a shortage of harvesting work, telegrams similar to that sent by Secretary L. C. Tingley of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday, will be sent to the commission by other Chambers of Commerce.

Letters asking that such telegrams be sent to Senators and Congressmen and to the Interstate Commerce Commission have been mailed from the local Chamber of Commerce to similar organizations in other cities. By concerted action on the part of the Commission in furnishing a better car supply for coal shipments, it is said that unless coal is received here that threshing will be held up and many crops lost.

PRODUCE MORE AND CONSUME LESS ADVOCATES FESS AS REMEDY FOR H. C. L.

Plain facts about the high cost of living, its cause and remedy, and other statements concerning certain red-flag waving anarchists who nest this country, were keynotes of the address given by Congressman S. D. Fess, of this district who spoke to farmers at the ninth annual picnic and field day held under the auspices of Greene County Pottawamie Grange at the Fairgrounds Thursday.

"The high cost of living is not a matter of legislation but a matter of production," said Dr. Fess in discussing the situation over the country that properly enforced laws would solve the problem. "The only two remedies are to produce more and to consume less," he said. "We have slowed up on production and the prices will remain up until the supply meets the demand."

"Ohio is 40,000 short in farm laborers this year," said the Congressman. "This means that there are less laboring men on the farms of Ohio today by 40,000 than there were a year ago. The United States Department of agriculture tells me that the falling off in labor is about 12 per cent and that two hundred millions of bushels of wheat will be lost this year because of the labor shortage. On other hand there are 32 per cent more labor employees in the automobile business this year than last year and more last year than the year before. This shows that labor is leaving the farm for other lines. As this continues you are leaving the producer and not lessening the consumer. The essentials are lessening while the non essentials are increasing."

DUE TO WAR

"This situation is largely due to the war," continued the speaker. "The war took the boys off of the farms and out of schools and when they returned they did not want to return to their former employment. I don't know what is going to be the remedy. We talk about producing more but if you don't have the labor how are you going to do it. The question is what are we going to do to reach the maximum of production. The very basis of everything is the food produced on the farm."

"We must stop this foolish extravagance," urged Congressman Fess. "In talking to Frank Vanderlip the great banker recently I asked him his opinion of putting a luxury tax on every article above a certain price. In that way if a girl wanted to buy a hat that would cost from $25 to $40 she would have to pay $50 for it and the difference would go into the national treasury. Mr. Vanderlip said: 'If you do that you would collect a lot of money because the world is full of just such fools as that.'"

The immensity of the national debt was brought home to the minds of listeners by the words of Congressman Fess, speaking of the war debt facing this country. "Before the war," said Dr. Fess, "Our debt was very small—less than a billion dollars, while that of Great Britain was three billion and of France six billions. The war began in 1914. We entered the war April 6, 1917 and within eight months we had increased our national debt to over 12 billions. Now we owe over 30 billions. The interest on that debt must be paid every year and amounts to more than the total cost of all the government before the war."

LAW NOT SUFFICIENT

"It is a mistake to think that all we need do to correct high prices is to pass laws. These things are the result of a world war. The effects of the war cannot be cured by laws—that is silly. However the people believe it and the result is anarchy."

In speaking of the anti-government movement, Dr. Fess said: "The safety of America is when every man speaks as an individual and not in groups. That is the dangerous tendency in America today. There must be found some way to prevent the strike that would tie up the source of our necessities," said the speaker in reference to the railroad disorders. Quitting work is one thing and conspiring together to prevent the railroads running is another—that is attempting to starve. If one must make the issue in America, I am ready to make it now. There is no man and no group of men stronger than the United States. If a law is not a good one it must be enforced anyway until it is repealed. We passed a law providing that any man who hedges the American soldier in uniform or splits on the flag must be forcibly deported to the country from which he came. The department of justice has now 60,000 people under surveillance with the possibility of deportation."

"We can take care of that foreign element if we have the courage," said the speaker. "The problem is what to do to Americanize the American. The country must be brought to one mind on Americanization."

Dr. Fess explained that two laws talked of recently were to prohibit so publication going through the mails not printed in English and to prohibit aliens to speak on the subject of our government in any other language than English. "We must take our stand against anything not American," he said "and put it down by force. Our government will be changed if necessary by the people themselves and the people are only persons here."

ORGANIZATION IMPORTANT

C. A. Dyer, Grange tax expert talked briefly on subjects of interest to the Grangers and farmers present. He emphasized the importance of organization to the farmer and spoke of the value of the Grange. In reference to anarchy he said: "I am not afraid of anarchy—there are too many people in this country who own their own homes."

Closing Mr. Dyer urged that the farmers pay wages on the farm so that it will attract the boys and girls who have left the farm so that they would return to it.

Frank Shellabarger, Steward of Pottawamie Grange introduced both the speakers. The contests and games arranged were run off on schedule before and after the speaking program. The winners were announced as follows: wheelbarrow race, A. M. Randall, first and Mr. Brubaker second; sack race, George Deger, first, and Fred Deger third. Three legged race, Deger Bros. first and Manor and Lackey second; running race for men, Bernard Sutton first and George Deger second, running race for boys, aul Father, first C. Garber Second, women's race, Mildred Willet first, Mrs. Swadener second, girls race, Lucille Ireland, first and Gladys Confer second, in the tug of war between the fat men and the lean men, the lean men won, while in the tug of war between the fat and lean women, the fats carried off the honors.

Five hundred people were in attendance at the affair and present at the big picnic dinner served at noon.

PRODUCE MORE AND CONSUME LESS ADVOCATES FESS AS REMEDY FOR H. C. L.

Plain facts about the high cost of living, its cause and remedy, and similar statements concerning certain red-flag waving anarchists who infest this country, were keynotes of the address given by Congressman S. D. Fess, of this district who spoke to farmers at the ninth annual picnic and field day held under the auspices of Greene County Pomona Grange at the Fairgrounds Thursday.

"The high cost of living is not a matter of legislation but a matter of production," said Dr. Fess in discussing the subject. "The war between the farmer and the city dweller would solve the problem. The only two remedies are to produce more and to consume less," he said. "We have slowed up on production and the prices will remain up until the supply meets the demand."

"Ohio is 40,000 short in farm laborers this year," said the Congressman. "This means that there are less laboring men on the farms of Ohio today by 40,000 than there were a year ago. The United States Department of agriculture tells me that the falling off in labor is about 12 per cent and that two hundred millions of bushels of wheat will be lost this year because of the labor shortage. On other hand there are 32 per cent more labor employees in the automobile business this year than last year and more last year than the year before. This shows that labor is leaving the farm for other lines. As this continues you are lessening the producer and not lessening the consumer. The essentials are lessening while the non essentials are increasing."

DUE TO WAR
"The situation is largely due to the war," continued the speaker. "The war took the boys off of the farms and out of schools and when they returned they did not want to return to their former employment. I don't know what is going to be the remedy. We talk about producing more but if you don't have the labor how are you going to do it. The question is what are we going to do to reach the maximum of production. The very basis of everything is the food produced on the farm."

"We must stop this foolish extravagance," urged Congressman Fess. "In talking to Frank Vanderlip the great banker recently I asked him his opinion of putting a luxury tax on every article above a certain price. In that way if a girl wanted to buy a hat that would cost from $25 to $40 she would have to pay $50 for it and the difference would go into the national treasury. Mr. Vanderlip said: 'If you do that you would collect a lot of money because the world is full of just such fools as that.'"

The immensity of the national debt was brought home to the minds of listeners by the words of Congressman Fess, speaking of the war debt facing this country. "Before the war," said Dr. Fess, "Our debt was very small—less than a billion dollars, while that of Great Britain was three billion and of France six billions. The war began in 1914. We entered the war April 6, 1917 and within eight months we had increased our national debt to over 12 billions. Now we owe over 30 billions. The interest on that debt must be paid every year and amounts to more than the total cost of all the government before the war."

LAW NOT SUFFICIENT
"It is a mistake to think that all we need do to correct high prices is to pass laws. These things are the result of a world war. The effects of the war cannot be cured by laws—that is silly. However the people believe it and the result is anarchy."

In speaking of the anti-government movement, Dr. Fess said: "The safety of America is when every man speaks as an individual and not in groups. That is the dangerous tendency in America today. There must be found some way to prevent the strike that would tie up the source of our necessities," said the speaker in reference to the railroad disorders. Quitting work is one thing and conspiring together to prevent the railroads running is another—that is attempting to starve. If one must make the issue in America I am ready to make it now. There is no man and no group of men stronger than the United States. If a law is not a good one it must be enforced anyway until it is repealed. We passed a law providing that any man who hinders the American soldier in uniform or splits on the flag must be forcibly deported to the country from which he came. The department of justice has now 60,000 people under surveillance with the possibility of deportation."

"We can take care of that foreign element if we have the courage and the speaker. 'The problem is what to do to Americanize the American. The country must be brought to one mind on Americanization.'"

Dr. Fess explained that two laws talked of recently were to prohibit publication going through the mails not printed in English and to prohibit aliens to speak on the subject of our government in any other language than English. "We must take our stand against anything not American," he said "and put it down by force. Our government will be changed if necessary by the people themselves and the people are only people on earth."

ORGANIZATION IMPORTANT
C. A. Dyer, Grange tax expert talked briefly on subjects of interest to the Grangers and farmers present. He emphasized the importance of organization to the farmer and spoke of the value of the Grange. In reference to anarchy he said: "I am not afraid of anarchy—there are too many people in this country who own their own homes."

Closing Mr. Dyer urged that the farmers pay wages on the farm so that it will attract the boys and girls who have left the farm so that they would return to it.

Fred Shellabarger, Steward of Pomona Grange introduced both the speakers. The contests and games arranged were run off on schedule before and after the speaking program. The winners were announced as follows: wheelbarrow race, A. M. Randall, first and Mr. Brubaker second; sack race, George Deger, first, and Fred Deger third. Three legged race, Deger Bros. first and Manor and Lackey second; running race for men, Bernard Sutton first and George Deger second, running race for boys, Paul Fattler, first, C. Garber second, women's race, Mildred Willis first, Mrs. Swadner second, girls race, Lucille Ireland, first and Gladys Confer second, in the tug of war between the fat men and the lean men, the lean men won, while in the tug of war between the fat and lean women, the fats carried off the honors.

Five hundred people were in attendance at the affair and present at the big picnic dinner served at noon.

XENIA QUIT CLUB TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC ON JULY 5

Members of the Xenia Quoit Club and their families, are expecting to attend the annual club picnic which will be held at Fort Ancient this year, on Monday, July 5.

Ladies expecting to attend the picnic are requested to report to Mrs. Walter L. Dean, while the men who will attend are asked to report to M. C. Bailey as soon as possible.

The Xenia Club defeated the Centerville Quoit Club at Centerville Thursday evening, taking seven out of twelve games played. With Centerville needing one game to tie up the series in the final contest, and leading the local club 20-16, Howard Jones tossed a ringer and crowded the peg for the tying point, while O. C. Custer tossed the deciding point. Those who made the trip by machine from the local club were Roy Ary, M. J. Babb, J. E. Sutton, Walter L. Dean, Howard Jones, M. C. Bailey, John McConnell, Mr. Cglesbee, O. C.

ISSUES WARNING ON RIDING OF BICYCLES

Chief of Police Graham is issuing a warning to boys or girls who have been in the habit of riding bicycles on the city sidewalks.

Complaints of this sort of thing have reached Police Headquarters and Patrolmen have been instructed by the Chief to break up the practice. If the warning is not sufficient arrests will be made of offenders.

CHILD LOSES EYE THROUGH ACCIDENT

A particle of a percussion cap which penetrated the right eye of 6 year old Leola Roberts daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roberts of the Celarville and Jamestown pike, caused the removal of the eye by Dr. Keen Madden a few days ago.

The child placed the cap on a stone and struck it with a hammer. A tiny piece of the brass penetrated the eyeball, lodging at the back of the eye. The X-ray disclosed the location of the particle and the surgeon found that the eye could not be saved.

CONTESTED SEATS IS PROBLEM OF MEETING LEADERS

San Francisco, June 25.—The Democratic national committee today tackled the problem of contested seats.

There are two main contests, Senator Reed of Missouri, who was elected a delegate in his district convention, but who was unseated by the state convention, is here demanding that he be seated. According to precedents, cited by Chairman Cummings, the national committee has heretofore always abided by the decisions of state convention when such decisions clashed with the action of district conventions.

The entire Georgia delegation is contested. The delegation which was elected in the preferential primary was constituted of men favorable to Attorney General Palmer. The state convention was controlled by Senator Hoke Smith and Tom Watson and the Palmer delegation was turned out and a delegation controlled by Smith and Watson substituted. "This case is clear cut," said Chairman Cummings and while he refused to make any predictions, it seemed apparent that the Palmer delegates will win out before the committee.

"I have hopes that we may clear up the contests today and complete the temporary roll of delegates," Cummings said.

BEAUTY CHATS

Handnails are ugly, uncomfortable, and sometimes dangerous, and should be gotten rid of as soon as possible. If you have any growing around the edges of the nails, the best thing to do is to soak the fingers for a few moments in warm, soapy water and then, pressing the skin away from the nail as much as possible, to clip off these objectionable little bits of dead cuticle.

Do not ever pull out a hangnail. The least you will do is to make a very painful spot at the end of the finger, for in pulling out a hangnail you also pull out a bit of the living flesh containing blood vessels and nerves. Get a pair of fine scissors or manicure scissors and cut the skin smooth. If you have the nails manicured regularly, or if you do it yourself, you will probably not be bothered with this annoyance. In any manicure particular attention should be paid to the skin at the edges of the nails. The manicure scissors should be used to cut off the very edge of the nail itself where it touches the skin and where most of the hangnails grow.

If the skin around this part of the nail is rough, but not rough enough for the manicure scissors to cut it smoothly, the best thing to do is to soak the skin soft in hot water and then, taking a little powdered pumice on the edge of the nail file or an orange wood stick, to go over the edge of the nail with this. The powdered pumice will raise up all loose pieces of skin and makes them very easy to clip off.

Curious—Light brown hair and dark brown eyes make a splendid contrast, and if you dress right, you can get up some very striking effects. Dress to bring out the darkness of the eyes, and to make the hair seem lighter. Dark browns will do this better than anything else; bronze-browns and black follow—of course pastel shades, by their contrast, will always set off the brunette.

Reader—Superfluous hair on the face can only be cured permanently by the electric needle method. This CUT GOES HERE kills the roots. Charges vary from a dollar an hour to $5 or $10, and from 10 to 50 hairs can be taken out in that time.

Brown Eyes—Have your doctor give you a tonic for the liver if you want those spots off. Your sister might take yeast for the pimples.

CHARLES YERKES
June 25, 1837

Charles Yerkes made millions before he was 40 years old, then lost every cent he had. Undismayed he began building up his fortune again and when he died he was one of the richest men in the country. He was born in Philadelphia before William Penn had officially founded the city. The Yerkes family were of Dutch origin and were supposed to have been one of that small band of adventurers who dug themselves holes in the Delaware river bank to live in until Spring gave them an opportunity to build themselves houses.

After Charles Yerkes finished school he went to work in a mercantile establishment. He was not paid any salary of course, for in those days it was considered a privilege to work in a first-class establishment. He did so well however that his employers presented him with $50 at the end of the first year.

When he was 22 he had enough confidence in himself to open a stock brokers house. He was clever enough to bring up the value of city bonds from $5 to 100. But at the time of the Chicago fire he lost his entire fortune. Two years later he obtained the control of a street railway whose stock was selling at 15, and by his ability to run the railway he made its stock worth 100 and so partly retrieved his fortune. Later he went to Chicago and built many of that city's traffic lines. He died in New York in 1905.

FISHES FOR BIRDS WITH ROD AND LINE

Boston Curator Thus Catches Rare Specimens for Aviary.

The way to catch birds, according to the beliefs and practices of George Morse, curator of the Franklin Park zoo, Boston, is to fish for them. A bamboo fish pole with a small fish line noose and snow shoes completes the curator's outfit for "bird fishing."

Nor is this a fish story. A reporter saw him catch three birds in this manner. Since February 4, when he sighted his first two birds and caught them, he has "landed" a full dozen of rare little feathered songsters from the far north.

This included four pine grosbeaks, two evening grosbeaks, which are birds especially rare in this section; five purple finches and one red top. It is Mr. Morse's opinion that the deep snows farther north have completely covered all possible food and that the low fruited bushes of the park have attracted the birds.

Curator Morse spends all his spare time tramping over the snowy miles of park expanse in search of these rare birds. He knows that the first thaw will send them north again and he is eager to capture as many as possible to put on exhibit in the aviary with the other costly and rare specimens.

Curator Morse always tries to work up upon the bird from the rear. He pushes his pole into such a position that the noose is just over the bird's head. Then he drops it gently. There is a flutter of wings, a surprised protest and the little creature is fairly caught.

Then the curator hauls in gently and the bird is soon in captivity.

MODERN EFFICIENCY.

An ancient Greek philosopher, Themistocles by name, Once drank a hemlock highball. And then, they say, died game.

Of course, this lad was brainy. But his style was rather crude: For now they drink wood alcohol. And kick off while they're stewed! —Lou Akerstrom.

We are glad to see that the government is going to begin coining two-cent pieces. We used to use the nickel for certain purposes, but it seems that the nickel has grown so weak that it can't travel alone and get anywhere. The two-cent piece will be a sort of crutch or traveling companion, as it were.

Added to a nickel, one of the new two-cent pieces ought to buy at least three cents' worth of almost anything.

The two-cent piece will be of great value to certain gentlemen who want to make the wife a regular weekly allowance. It, too, will be excellent to drop in the collection plate and to shove through the apertures of these cute little change boxes that the ladies hold as they stand on the corner collecting funds. When dropped, the two-cent piece makes a noise almost exactly like a quarter.

The two-cent piece can also be used to buy certain politicians at their actual value.

DRY BALLADS.

I cannot sing the old songs. I do not care for them. They don't sound like they used to. At 1 or 2 a. m.

Some of the presidential candidates profess to have no capital behind them, but several of them have large corporations in front of them.

Don't blame the kisser if he misses his aim and shoots your cake of ice through your plate glass window instead of through the cellar doorway. His mind is not on his work. He is endeavoring to uplift the stage. He is working on the third act of his play.

If the plumber has been down cellar all morning and you haven't heard the tap of a hammer, he is writing. Don't disturb him. His heroine is hanging over the edge of the precipice waiting for the hero. It is a tense moment, a crisis in his play. Let him alone and give him time to think it out.

If you get a business letter about pig iron, with a lot of mushy conversation in it inclosed in quotation marks, together with a mess of stage directions, you will know that your correspondent's stenographer is so busy on her play that pig iron means nothing in her young life.

Truck drivers standing their teams at traffic crossings and writing on grimy bits of paper are common sights.

Everybody is writing plays nowadays—that is to say, everybody except the playwrights who know how.

A man can make a lot of money with his pen—if it happens to be a pig pen.

We are not particular who gets it just so long as it is Hi Johnson or Cal Coolidge, or maybe Len Wood.

A good many troubles are homebrew, too.

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. LOYD CONTRACTING COMPANY TO BUILD CITY FILTER PLANT

The Lloyd Contracting Company was awarded the contract for building the filter plant of the new water supply to be developed here, by the City Commission at the regular meeting held Thursday evening. The estimate on the work is placed at $20,000.

The city estimated that it would do the work cheaper than by giving the contract to any bidder, by furnishing the materials and paying for having the work done. The Lloyd Company will therefore do the work for the city at what is estimated to be a saving on the construction work.

The city commission approved the contracts of the successful bidders for the other work, and authorized the City Manager to sign them. The contracts to be signed are with the H. E. Miller Contracting Co., of Columbus for laying the water mains and with the Dovo-Doyle Co., of Pittsburg for furnishing the pumps and motors.

A proposition to make Greene street a one way traffic thoroughfare, because of its narrow width was brought up at the meeting but was voted down. The commissioners decided that it would take two traffic policemen to regulate the traffic to driving only one way on the street.

An ordinance establishing the grade on Trumbull street from Orange street to the west end of the street was read for the first time at the meeting.

... LIGHTNING STOPS CARS ...

Toledo, Ohio, June 25.—Lightning put the street cars out of commission for an hour and a half. From 6:30 A. M. to 8 P. M. the cars were stalled after a bolt struck a cable and caused a short circuit.

WILL MEET IN SPAIN

Madrid, June 25.—The next meeting of the Council of the League of Nations will be held at San Sebastian on July 17, it was announced.

BEAR FOLLOWS MAN

Animal Had Porcupine Quills and Wanted Relief.

Followed by a bear for two miles in the mountains near McCloud, Cal., was the experience of John Phillips, who stepped lively until he reached camp. Then he thought he was safe, but the bear entered camp also, its face bristling with porcupine quills. These it submitted to have pulled out by Phillips and others, to its great relief. During the operation Bruin was docile as a kitten, but afterward it showed fight and could only be captured with difficulty and danger. It will be kept for a pet.

On The Spur of The Moment

MODERN EFFICIENCY.

An ancient Greek philosopher,
Themistocles by name,
Once drank a hemlock highball,
And then, they say, died game.

Of course, this lad was brainy,
But his style was rather crude;
For now they drink word alcohol,
And kick off while they're stewed!

—Lou Akerstrom.

We are glad to see that the government is going to begin coining two-cent pieces. We used to know the nickel for certain purposes, but it seems that the nickel has grown so weak that it can't travel alone and get anywhere. The two-cent piece will be a sort of crutch or traveling companion, as it were.

Added to a nickel, one of the new two-cent pieces ought to buy at least three cents' worth of almost anything.

The two-cent piece will be of great value to certain gentlemen who want to make the wife a regular weekly allowance. It, too, will be excellent to drop in the collection plate and to shove through the apertures of these cute little change boxes that the ladies hold as they stand on the corner collecting funds. When dropped, the two-cent piece makes a noise almost exactly like a quarter.

The two-cent piece can also be used to buy certain politicians at their actual value.

DRY BALLADS.

I cannot sing the old songs,
I do not care for them.
They don't sound like they used to
At 1 or 2 a.m.

Some of the presidential candidates profess to have no capital behind them, but several of them have large corporations in front of them.

Don't blame the ice man if he misses his aim and shoots your cake of ice through your plate glass window instead of through the cellar doorway. He is working on the third act of his play.

If the plunger has been down cellar all morning and you haven't heard the tap of a hammer, he is writing. Don't disturb him. His heroine is hanging over the edge of the precipice waiting for the hero. It is a tense moment, a crisis in his play. Let him alone and give him time to think it out.

If you get a business letter about pig iron, with a lot of mushy conversation in it inclosed in quotation marks, together with a mess of stage directions, you will know that your correspondent's stenographer is so busy on her play that pig iron means nothing in her young life.

Truck drivers standing their teams at traffic crossings and writing on grimy bits of paper are common sights.

Everybody is writing plays nowadays—that is to say, everybody except the playwrights who know how.

A man can make a lot of money with his pen—if it happens to be a pig pen.

We are not particular who gets it just so long as it is Hi Johnson or Cal Coolidge, or maybe Len Wood.

A good many troubles are homebrew, too.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or egg unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q. has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most economical way to stop future generations of bedbugs, roaches, fleas and ants is to use the new discovery

Peaky Devils Quietus "P. D. Q." A 35c package of P. D. Q. makes a quart, enough to kill a million bedbugs, roaches, fleas and cotes and at the same time destroy their eggs. Impossible for them to exist when P. D. Q. is properly used. Free, patent spot in every package to get the pesky devils in the hard-to-get-at places and save the juice. Special Hospital and Hotel size $2.50—makes five gallons of P. D. Q.—your druggist has it or can get it for you, or sent prepaid upon receipt of price by the Owl Chemical Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Success of P. D. Q. has caused imitations; genuine P. D. Q. is never peddled.

"SMILES"

One time a young girl went out on a farm to visit. She was looking at the cows one day, and asked the farmer, "What are those things on that cow's head?"

"Horns," said the farmer.
Just then the cow bawled.
"Which horn did she blow that time?" asked the girl—Lone Scout.

"My dear," he said as they sat at supper, "I heard such a sad story today about a young girl. They thought she was going blind, and so a surgeon operated on her and found—"

"Yes?" said the wife expectantly.

"That she had a young man in her eyes," finished the husband with a chuckle.

For a moment there was silence. Then the lady of the house said slowly: "Well, it would all depend upon what sort of a young man it was. Some of them she could have seen through easily enough."

"Did you ever hear such an abject apology in your life?"

"The salesman realizes that he was at fault."

"How so?"

"He tried to sell me the kind of shirt," the wife said, "that the experts, editors and professors wear."

An artist was showing a young woman over his studio. After she had critically examined all the pictures she remarked:

"I notice several sunsets among your works, but not a single sunrise. How's that?"

The artist, who was rather noted for his Bohemian habits, blushed a little at the question, and then stammered:

"You see, it's this way. To tell the truth, the reason I've never painted a sunrise is because I'm never up at that time."

"JUST ONE" DOES IT EVERY TIME

Only Laxative Tablets That Keep On Getting Action and Never Wear Out.

The new idea in laxatives. Twenty tablets in each box, all alike in appearance but entirely different in ingredients. Each tablet a full correct dose of a laxative, different from any of the other nineteen.

Getting a Lot of Action
You can't take the same laxative twice in succession from a box of "Just One," because there's only one of each kind. You can't keep on pounding a single organ and neglecting the others as you do with ordinary laxatives. With just one tablet you get action through stimulation of the liver, next time through the pancreas, next the lower bowels and so on throughout the twenty. That's why their effectiveness never wears out—because you change laxatives with every dose.

It's plain common-sense. So get a box of "Just One" today. Any drug-gist anywhere can get "Just One" for you or we will send it postpaid upon receipt of 25c per box. Manufactured by Ferritone Chemical Co., Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Cream the sugar and fat, then add the well beaten egg and the other ingredients. Use but little nutmeg and mix the soda with the flour. Bake in a loaf in a moderate oven.

One-Egg Cake—One-third cup fat, one cup sugar, one-quarter cup corn syrup, one egg, one cup milk, two cups flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla or one teaspoon cinnamon and one-half teaspoon cloves.

Method—Sift together the dry ingredients. Soften fat, add the sugar, the egg slightly beaten, the liquid, finally the dry ingredients. Beat one minute, pour into greased tin and bake in a moderate oven until the top springs back when lightly touched.

Jelly Rolls—In making these rolls, use bread dough, about enough for making one small loaf, after the bread is light and ready for the pans.

Add one-half teaspoon of sugar, one tablespoon of butter or lard, one egg, one-half teaspoon of salt, with flour sufficient to form dough to roll. Cut into three or four-inch pieces; have each roll with a dent made lengthwise in center for the jelly, a small teaspoon of jelly in each. Cover with pieces of the dough. Fry same as fried cakes. Pinch the edges together before cooking.

Crumb Cookies—One cup sugar, one-half cup shortening, one egg, pinch salt, one and one-half cups bread crumbs (put through chopper), one and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon soda, one and one-third cups hot water. Drop with spoon on baking pan.

Add any flavoring desired. A few nuts and raisins may be added, but the cookies are good without.

ODD USES FOR SALT
Salt and soda make an excellent remedy for bee stings.
Salt and vinegar will remove stains from discolored teacups.
Salt and water make a splendid gargle for sore throat.
Salt put in whitewash will make it stick.
Salt rubbed on spoons will remove egg stains.
Salt in water keeps cut flowers fresh.
Salt thrown in fire will put out fire in chimney.
Salt put in pan in bottom of oven under making tins will prevent bread and cakes from scorching at the bottom.

COOKING HELPS.
Nuts, Raisins or Currants, placed in the centers of baked apples (before baking) is a good change from the plain baked apple.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

I had heard that when drowning a person's life went swiftly before them in review. As I sat with my hot cheeks in my cupped hands my life seemed to unroll before me—my happy, carefree childhood my delightful school days, my glorious ly happy days with Father and Mother and my friends the year after my graduation my debut, my birthday party, Father's death; then came the parting with Mother, the three weeks with Mrs. Rush, my journey to Chicago and now—this.

I heard the manager come in but did not remove my hands or look up. I felt as if I never could look up again.

"It is fortunate Miss Stewart, that the bag was not found upon you—fortunate for you," a cold, monotonous voice said.

"Oh, Mr. Watkins, I did not take it; I never even saw the bag!" I exclaimed rising in my distress.

"The bag had been missing some minutes. The counter had been searched. Suddenly it is found directly in front of you. The conclusion is obvious. So also is your man-vin complained to me. The bag was ner of dressing, of which Miss Mar-not really found in your possession so we shall not arrest you. But here is your pay for the time you have been with us. I should advise you to change your ways. Everyone may not be so lenient as I have been."

"Lenient!" I almost screamed the word at him as I stumbled from the office and after getting my hat, from the building. Not one word of sympathy, not a chance to try to make him see my side of the affair. "Oh whatever shall I do!" I moaned as I walked rapidly away from the store.

When I reached the bare little room I called 'home,' I flung myself upon the bed and sobbed for hours. Other things had been hard—this was hardest of all. And all those girls, the customers who had hung around after their purchases were made to see the outcome of the search all these thought me a thief—called me so in their minds.

I wondered how many homes would be regaled with the story of the dishonest girl who pretended to sell shirtwaists so she could steal, as I heard one woman say indignantly after Mr. Watkins had ordered me to go to his office. I would be held up as an example of a girl who stole to buy good clothes.

I tore frantically at my dress! I became hysterical in my desire to destroy it. I prayed to die. I did all the wild, foolish things a girl so unhappy and all alone in a city that had already made it almost impossible for to earn a living would do. Then, exhausted, I lay quiescent, deadened. What difference did anything make? No one cared. I was just a little bit of floatsam and jetsam on life's tide. That I was washed out to sea and drowned would make a ripple upon the life of anyone.

Then the thought of Mother, my promise to make a home for her, came to me and steadied me.

"I can't give up I can't!" I muttered over and over. Then I folded my hands as I had when a little child and knelt beside my bed and prayed that I might be kept good, really good, as Dad had said he wanted me to be. Then I asked God to help me because no one else would.

I bathed my face. And feeling faint as I walked around the room. I recalled that I had eaten nothing all day save a roll and cup of tea in the morning. I had so little money—I must not get sick. So with a feeling of nausea at the thought of food, I went to a delicatessen and bought a bottle of milk and drank it.

I fell asleep the moment I touched the bed. My intense emotion, the giving away to hysterical dejection had left me exhausted.

In the morning I could not rise. I felt as if a leaden weight were upon me, holding me down. I decided to remain in bed and to try and think what I should do.

"Ain't you goin' to work, Miss Zena?" Mrs. Lynch asked. She had climbed all those long stairs when the maid told her I was not up.

"No, I do not feel able to get up. Then: 'I'll just lie here and rest today. I'll be all right to-morrow."

"I hope so, you look mighty peaked tho," and she left me only to return with a plate of toast and some tea. The kindly act brought tears again. Not everyone was unkind.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPERS USE BEST
That is why they use Red Cross Ball Rope. All leading grocers. 5 cents.

Dependable rope for hay-harvest time

Guaranteed rope for haying time—rope that you can depend upon to carry the overloads—that's what we are offering to the farmers of this section in Hooven & Allison "Blue Heart" manila rope.

"Blue Heart" is so spun that its makers are definitely able to guarantee it to be stronger than the United States Government Bureau of Standards considers ideal.

Only tough, pure manila fibre can be made into cordage of such strength. And yet "Blue Heart" costs no more than ordinary rope.

Kinks less—easy on hands—resists water

"Blue Heart" manila will wear twice as long as low-grade rope. The quality of the fibre gives it not only great strength but also high wear-resisting ability.

Water has less effect on it than on ordinary rope.

Easy bending and pliable, knots easily, easy on the hands, ideal for hitch and tie purposes.

Throw out your worn ropes now—get ready for the coming season by ordering a supply of "Blue Heart" manila. Identify it by the blue trade-mark in the center of the strands.
